table of contents - hawaii preparatory academy - antenna design (now out of print) is highly recommended for serious antenna designers as is his series of articles in ham radio (see bibliography). the advent of powerful microcomputers and sophisticated computer antenna modeling software in the mid 1980s revolutionized the field of yagi design for the radio amateur. practical high performance hf log periodic antennas - ratio. some antenna designers have re-sorted to using passive reflectors or directors to boost performance. i tried to modify the antenna element spacing and lengths of traditional log periodic designs and was able to successfully optimize the antenna to give good 14-30 mhz performance without requiring additional passive elements. evolutionary design of %band antenna for nasa's space ... - such an approach is very difficult for antenna designers due to the complexity of electromagnetic interactions, yet easy to integrate into evolutionary techniques. below we describe an evolutionary algorithm approach to a challenging antenna design problem on nasa's space technology 5 (st5) mission [18]. st5 reflector antenna developments: a perspective on the past ... - reflector antenna developments: a perspective on the past, present, and future yahya rahmat-samii1 and randy l. haupt2 1electrical engineering department, university of california, los angeles, ca 90095 usa e-mail: rahmat@ee.ucla the montgomery college parabolic antenna project - the montgomery college parabolic antenna project david bern, w2lnx adjunct lecturer ... development of skilled satellite and ground system designers and ... arri antenna book, 20th edition, arri, newington, connecticut, 2003. fars relay 2011 10 - fars.k6ya - • cliff k6cls - 6m/2m boxkite antenna (10ft x 7ft) from the arri antenna designers notebook. *3rd place* congratulations cliff!
